

Pavement Markings

Pavement marking changes can be part of other tools, such as walkway or bicycle enhancements, or can be a standalone solution. Marking of speed limits on roadways, centerline delineators and replacement of existing faded markings can be effective tools.

The use of painted crosswalks is covered under the Crosswalks section of this site.

